

Local Light Bulb Turns Nation On

"Who invented the light bulb?" may have a new answer in Placentia. If the old response was Thomas Edison...the new reply is likely to be Donald D. Hollister, a Placentia resident, who is now garnering world-wide fame with his new fluorescent light.

Hollister, a tall former Marine and father of six, has just signed a contract with the federal government's Energy Research Development Administration, a bureaucratic arm in Washington, D.C. intent on saving the country's dwindling energy supply.

What brought ERDA and Hollister together was the product of 16 years of labor from which the Placentia physicist and inventor has produced a fluorescent light bulb that will fit into an incandescent socket.

The bulb, or lamp, when it is on the market, will cost possibly $10 and last as many years.

What it does besides produce a warm white light similar to the familiar incandescent bulb, is last longer, burn cooler and use 70 per cent less energy than conventional bulbs.

It was the latter that aroused sufficient interest at ERDA to extend to Hollister a $310,000 contract, to assist in carrying his important invention into its production, marketing and distribution phases.

"The laboratory work is about completed," a spokesman at his office said last week. "The big thing is to get it into distribution. We will probably gear our production for the hotel and motel market first, users who buy in large quantities, before we get to the individual consumer."

What has quickly brought a multitude of queries to the modest laboratory facilities on State College Boulevard in Fullerton where Hollister has labored since 1947 on his invention, is the saving of the world's energy resources.

"If we could relamp every socket in the country, we would save the energy equivalent of 500,000 barrels of oil per day", Hollister estimates.

"And worldwide would be five-thirds of that, or about 1.3 million barrels of oil a day. We could be off by a factor of two".

Hollister explains: "After the second world war, Japan and many European nations that had to be rebuilt, employed fluorescent lamps in the homes. Consequently the use of incandescent lamps in many parts of the world is nowhere near as extensive as it is here.

"Our lamp, of course, will be as efficient as an ordinary fluorescent tube, but it really can't compete because it doesn't fit in the same fixture. If you take into consideration that fluorescent lighting is much more prevalent overseas than here, we feel there is about a 5 to 3 ratio in energy consumption".

An ultimate effect also will be to reduce the world's lighting bills. A lamp is expected to pay for itself in a few months.

Hollister says also he is impressed with ERDA's pragmatic approach to the country's energy problems. "A lot of people think that the government is a wasteful, monolithic, greedy monster...which it probably is...but this new Energy Research Development Administration is very efficient, very far sighted and very straight. I personally was very impressed. If we can cooperate with their intent to conserve energy, we most certainly are going to do it".

And what impressed ERDA was Hollister's 16-year development, his Litek bulb, which resembles a 100 watt incandescent bulb, fits standard sockets, contains no wire filaments that can burn out and can last at least several years and possibly a decade or more".

The bulb works with a coil magnetic coil, energized by an electronics package contained in the lower portion of the light bulb. The coil produces a magnetic field that excites the mercury gas and results in emission of ultraviolet light. The ultraviolet light causes the phosphor layer to fluoresce and emit visible light.

Austin Heller, ERDA assistant administrator for conservation, points out that incandescent lighting is costing Americans more than $6 billion annually. "Lighting uses about 20 per cent of all electricity generated in the United States each year for around 400 billion kilowatt hours per year or an expense of $15 billion", he explains.

Hollister's efforts to produce a

School Merger Scheduled For Dialogue

Boards of Trustees of the three school districts, of Yorba Linda, Placentia Unified and Fullerton Union High School, have scheduled a joint meeting to discuss the possible annexation of Yorba Linda into the Placentia district.

The meeting has been called by the Yorba Linda schools to consider a report from the county on merger considerations between the two adjoining districts.

Meeting time is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 31 in the library of Valencia High School, Placentia.

A possible merger, which has been discussed over several months, would unite Yorba Linda and Placentia schools. Many Yorba Linda students, within the Placentia district, now attend in PUSD.

Expected to be the vital point in the discussion is whether the Fullerton Union High School district, where the Yorba Linda students under consideration, are in high school, will acquiesce to permitting students to leave. Fullerton is already suffering declining enrollment.

Dr. Sterling Fox, Yorba Linda Superintendent of Schools, said the meeting is open to the public.

The subscription price of The Placentia Courier will advance from $5 to $6 on March 31, 1976, it was announced this week. Present and new subscribers, however, can renew or take out new subscriptions at the current rate.

Additional Revenue Sharing Creates More Problems

With the rift over the first allocation of revenue sharing funds still unhealed, two Placentia youth organizations last week apparently have received an additional grant of $31,995 in taxpayers funds from Orange County Supervisors.

The second grant, which has been approved but not delivered, appears to be in even greater contention than the first.

One of the two groups, the Valencia Youth Athletic Association, which had first applied for funds along with a proposal from the Placentia Athletic Club, was not aware that a new proposal had been submitted.

The Valencia Youth group last year ran a successful football program similar to Junior All American and Pop Warner, for youngsters who qualified for financial assistance.

The disagreements between the rivaling clubs have twice brought Chairman of the Board of Orange County Supervisors, Ralph Diedrich to Placentia to attempt to untangle the problems emanating from the original $14,982 grant.

Diedrich declared at a second meeting that such misunderstandings would be settled as injury insurance for the football playing youngsters and insurance to cover any liability accruing to county organizations, the city of Placentia or the Placentia Unified School District, on whose fields the youngsters played.

Mrs. Gloria Lopez, president of the Valencia Youth Athletic Association said that her group still has not received its full allotment under the first grant.

"We do not know what happened to the additional $541 we were supposed to have from the first proposal. We did not participate in the second petition," Mrs. Lopez pointed out, "but apparently it covers football and that is our program."

The other part of the quandry is the Placentia Athletic Club, which operates out of a metal industrial type building at 406 Baker Street. Here PAC members report they conduct boxing lessons for area youngsters and funnel out other sports programs to parks and playing fields, according to statements by Ruben Escarsega, the founder of PAC. The building used has no plumbing or running water in it.

Escarsega estimated last week that he has a number of participants in a variety of programs ranging from soccer to basketball and baseball. Some of these, however, are in the Placentia city-operated leagues and not under PAC supervision.

Escarsega, who is the brother-in-law of Placentia councilman L. Jack

Callahan Seeks Early End To Utility Tax

A plan to eliminate Placentia's utility tax by 1978 and still pay off the Civic Center indebtedness; and to hold the line on some expenses at City Hall, are a part of the election platform of Michael Callahan, the only incumbent in the present city council race.

Callahan, serving his first four year term as councilman, is now mayor pro tem of the city, the municipality's second highest office.

A 12-year Placentia resident, Callahan has developed a reputation for speaking out strongly on issues during his four years on the city's planning commission and his tenure on the council.

"I enjoy a good argument", he substantiates. "I would be alarmed at all five to nothing (city council) votes. I like discussion. But it has to be a fair and honest discussion with people honestly expressing their points."

"I campaigned last time against the utility tax", he recalls, "and I haven't changed my mind one bit. The utility tax is for major capital improvements. That to me is large, big buildings like the Civic Center. Not other things like tractors, lawn mowers and police cars."

"I don't think it is a fair and equitable tax. Everyone has to have gas and electricity to live. They took it (the tax) off of water to shut me up and it wasn't generating that much revenue anyway."

"I was very happy to see that finally two of the senior councilmen partially agreed to some kind of a phase out program by 1988...the first year we are able to pay off the bonds on the Civic Center. You can't pay them off any sooner under penalty."

"I think that is a great idea and that is why I voted for it. I think it's a step in the right direction but I have another plan."

"If I am elected, the first move I am going to make is not to phase the utility tax out in 1988, but to phase it out in 1978, ten years sooner.

"Right now we have $550,000 approximately in the utility tax fund balance. I would collect the utility taxes for the next three years, '76, '77 and '78 and add that (around $500,000 a year) $1,500,000 to the balance we already have."

"Our outstanding balance on the Civic Center is around $2.3 million. After making yearly payments of $189,000 each, at the close of 1978 we would examine the remaining balance. There should be about $1,400,000 roughly. We would then go to the bank and bank it. The lowest savings and loan rates available now is 7.7 per cent. If held until 1988 and even withdrawing $189,000 each year to make a payment, when 1988 rolled around, we would still have an outstanding balance and the Civic Center would have been paid off."

"And the citizens of Placentia

Davis Would Make City Hall Friendlier

A concern that City Hall reflect the courtesy and friendliness of the people of Placentia is expressed by Robert Davis, an 11-year-resident of Placentia, who is making a second bid for a seat on the city council.

"I want to be a city councilman because I think it is something I have consciously been working towards all my life", Davis relates. "I'm a person who likes to help and gets a great deal of delight out of serving other people."

"People who want to talk to somebody shouldn't have to go to the city council because a lot of people feel uncomfortable with those five people up there on the shelf looking down on you like the Supreme Court."

"I resent having to go to City Hall and it has happened to me on a couple of occasions, where people act like they are doing me a favor by even talking to me. It is very difficult to get an answer and even after I get an answer, I'm not quite sure what I was told. I think many people feel that way."

Davis, who is self employed, in his own public relations-advertising business, is a familiar figure in local community organizations.

He relates: "I have served with the American Red Cross; as an Explorer Scout training officer. I'm vice president of the Placentia Kiwanis Club; a director of the Chamber of Commerce; director of the Boys Club; Exalted Ruler of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Elks Lodge. I have served with the Placentia Heritage Festival board and the Placentia Bicentennial Committee."

ROBERT DAVIS in his second effort, is seeking a post on the Placentia City Council. Active in a number of community organizations and efforts, Davis has recently organized Placentia-Yorba Linda Elks Lodge. Here he is shown doing some yard work at his Placentia home where the Davis family has lived for 11 years.

Frank McGorky Dies Suddenly

A second sudden death of a principal involved in the widening of Placentia's Chapman Avenue, Thursday claimed the life of Frank McGorky, owner of the Foster Freeze restaurant on the boulevard.

McGorky, who apparently died of a heart attack, was rushed to Placentia-Linda Hospital where he was reported dead at 12:55 a.m. Thursday. Paramedics apparently were not involved.

McGorky, 63, a well known businessman in the Chapman Avenue area had not been ill previously. He had operated the Foster Freeze outlet for a number of years.

He is survived by his wife Betty, a son Patrick and a daughter Michele Lori all of Placentia; two sisters, Gladys Mead of New York and Laureen Hollander of La Quinta and brother-in-law Marvin Butler. He was a native of Sandusky, Ohio.

Services were held Saturday at Pacific View Memorial Park in Newport Beach with McAulay and Wallace Mortuary of Fullerton in charge of arrangements.

It was the second death in two weeks of persons involved in the proposed widening of Chapman Avenue. Joseph Patrick Gavin, an appraiser for the studies on the widening of the thoroughfare died suddenly at his home in Mission Viejo on March 1.

Candidate Callahan

would not have been paying the utility tax from 1978 to 1988. They would have had ten years off."

On City Hall salaries: "I'm not opposed to anybody getting a raise, particularly the blue collar workers because I feel that the hourly worker works hard for his money and is pretty regulated. But I think we have reached the point of return already as far as management salaries goes."

"When you look at the batting order, the chief executive is making $37,000. I don't question his (Edwin Powell, city administrator) ability or his possible right to earning that kind of money. But it is very questionable in my mind that our chief executive should be in the same dollar category as a United States Congressman, U.S. Senator. That his salary should exceed the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Ralph Dieckhoff by almost $13,000 and that his salary should exceed our state senator and state assemblyman salaries by $16,000 a year."

The city of Fullerton, Callahan explained, has had 44 applicants for a city administrator opening with a specified salary from $33,000 to $37,000, and ten years experience. The differences, he outlines, as 93,000 population against 30,000 in Placentia; 625 employees to 125; a $25.6 million budget to $5 million. "The fact that 44 people applied for it," Callahan continues, "must mean that it is a pretty good job. And when I lay that figure against our city, it bothers me. I'm not against people earning a fair and equitable wage but we have 12 or 13 in the management staff and the lowest paid man gets $17,500."

"What I suggest is that Placentia is a pleasant place to live in; the working conditions are excellent; the people are fun to be around and no one wants to keep anybody from earning more money if that's their object."

"We would never hold anybody back if a better job opened up in another city. The door is open and it swings both ways."

"We're only 30,000 people, and no matter how I look at the budget, when I get out to 1983 and I see the general fund balance of $225, that worries me. It alarms me when the general fund is that low. I'd like for us to stay static for at least a year and review it."

On his four years on the council: "I'm proud to say I took part in reducing our fire costs $226,000 a year and doubling our protection. I am one of three that voted yes on paramedics. One of three that voted to go to county fire service. When they (local firemen) went on strike that was the last straw as far as I was concerned."

"We doubled our fire protection and probably lowered our fire insurance. I had something to do with that. We opened a Senior Citizens Building. We opened two Community Centers. We opened a hospital."

Revenue Sharing Funds

Gomez, said also that his players will be playing in Mexico, with three baseball games set for the weekend of March 27 and other activities scheduled later in the year.

The original problems, which began last September, originated from inclusion of the requests for revenue sharing funds for the programs of both groups into one proposal. The Valencia Youth Athletic Association, a new group, was not incorporated and could not claim revenue sharing funds. The Placentia Athletic Club had completed incorporation, so the proposals were submitted together using the PAC number. The first request was for $29,457.60.

Most of the funds granted last year were earmarked for the Valencia program, but were held by the PAC. Supervisor Dieckhoff appeared when a Fullerton sporting goods company complained that they had not been paid for more than $11,000 in football equipment, delivered to the Valencia group, with the funds in the care of the Placentia Athletic. Following that meeting the bill was paid.

Further disagreements resulted from lack of insurance on the youngsters playing in the YVAA football leagues. Medical bills on the youngsters hurt have not as yet been paid. Mrs. Lopez states, although the reason may be the loss of the medical papers.

Another $1,700 insurance policy was paid for with the taxpayer funds to insure the county and PAC up to a million dollars. However the other organizations, the city, and the schools were not included, leaving them liable for damages. Escarsega said last week he was not sure if that policy had been amended to include everyone but that he would check on it.

Also in contention are possible salaries that may accrue to coaches in the Placentia Athletic Club. One salary mentioned was $800 a month for an executive director. Escarsega said at the time of the original grant that if he accepted that, he would not quit his regular job but would work the other obligation in on weekends and after school.

Other salaries listed from the original proposal for revenue sharing funds include $300 a month for a secretary and $260 a month each for two part time coaches.

Robert Davis

I'm a charter member of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity; a director of the Orange County Press Club. I've served in United Way and I am a life member of the Placentia Friends of the Placentia Library."

Davis, who is 51, is a native of Iowa and a member of the Catholic Church.

The candidate continues: "I think we have a fairly well run city. I think it could be better. I think the only way you are going to have good city government is to keep putting in people who are dedicated to good city government. I think I can do one heck of a job making Placentia somewhat better than it is today."

Davis, who was at one time employed by former Orange County Supervisor David Baker in public relations, has worked for several large daily newspapers in the area, where he has covered the "political scene."

On specific issues Davis continues: "I question the five acres the city bought. That's not to say that we don't need it, but I condemn the way the city went about doing it. If we have a need for the five acres, let's tell the people what it is."

On City Hall: "Getting your city business taken care of should be a pleasant experience...as pleasant as possible. You shouldn't feel like you have to come with your hat in your hand and you feel that somebody there is going to rip you off."

Traffic lights: "You can't drive through Placentia at the legal speed limit without hitting every single red light. If I get through three or four lights (on the arterial streets) I'm ecstatic. Something has to be done to get traffic to move smoothly."

On the median strips: "All the money we spent on the drip system! You have to have a special filtration system or the tiniest bit of debris in those lines will clog them. They have those big thorn trees in there. I was told it was like a nursery and they will be taken out later. Esthetically they should be thinned out. Some of the wrong trees are in there."

Density: "I don't think it's necessary to build a preponderance of multi-dwellings simply for the sake of letting more people move into Placentia. We're locked in here. Let's not try to become a downtown Los Angeles. There is a lot of land in Orange County that is not land locked where developers have a perfect opportunity to build apartments if they are so inclined."

"I don't think we should jam up our streets, our schools and our recreational facilities because somebody wants to put in a couple more apartment units."

Widening of Chapman: "There is no question in my mind that the street has to be widened because of the traffic flow. The overriding factor is how can we widen Chapman at the least expense and hurting the least number of people."

Expense accounts: "A specific breakdown is called for, no matter whether you're working for the city or for General Motors. It's an essential thing to have everything documented and itemized. And if you haven't a receipt, in the sake of complete honesty, don't ask for the money."

"I think if you are required to attend a convention, that certain costs should be expected to be picked up. I don't think you have to go first class and I don't expect you to go steerage either. But there has to be some limitation on how much you are authorized to spend. If there is any hanky-panky going on it should be eliminated and the people should be told there is hanky-panky going on."

City council salaries: "I favor a larger salary for the city councilmen of Placentia. I think it should be computed to pay your basic expenses, gas mileage and various things you have to attend as a councilman, as opposed to an expense account."

"The salary should cover everything you would normally do in performance of your duty in Orange County. Anytime you have to leave the county, then you are on an expense account and it should be specifically spelled out. I can't see making a party out of it either."

On Staff salaries: "I don't think they should be getting an automatic raise because people in Anaheim or Yorba Linda are getting it. I question an automatic raise. Simply because we apparently have unlimited funds from taxpayers, doesn't give politicians authority to do anything they want to do."

Candidate Slate: "There is some talk that three of the candidates are being groomed by someone in city government. The fact that it was being considered makes me very disturbed. If someone in the city hierarchy has selected a slate of three candidates to endorse, I would question the special interest factor of that, and also the contribution of good government. That is a special interest that I strongly frown against."

Utility tax: "As long as we have to have it, it should be geared for what it was intended to be used for. Salaries is not one of them. If the money is put to use for things that will benefit the community, it takes some of the sting out for me."

Bradford House: "I'm in favor of saving the Bradford House. I am in favor of a group, such as the Chamber of Commerce, occupying the building and I raised this issue at a directors meeting three months ago. I think it should be saved if it can be and I don't like to see the tax dollars continually subsidizing it just to keep the house there."

Fire department: "I think we have better fire service, more men on a truck, more equipment and it costs less than what we had before so I am satisfied. Paramedics? I love them."

Heritage Festival: "Every year makes me sick for the response that we get. Heritage is the biggest opportunity to get people together and get them involved."

Davis, who has lived in California 21 years is a Navy veteran. He and wife Lois have five children all married, and four grandchildren.

"My formal education ended when I was 18," Davis recalls, "and graduated from high school. My ongoing education reflects the people I meet and the things I do. I feel seriously that if I don't meet someone new every day and learn something new every day, that I'm wasting time."

only way I would run."

Mrs. Farmer, who is a planner for the city of Corona was not available at press time.

Mrs. Lopez' letter continues: "Please Mr. Mayor, have we really lost our right to endorse or vote for who we believe is our best representative? And is this really what we pay staff to do for us?"

The staff member, Mrs. Lopez continued, stated that if Callahan were to win, his work would be harder.

Mrs. Lopez also said she was questioned as to her rapport with the city administration and with another department head for the city.

Our Paper And Yours

A Combined Effort

The Placentia Courier is indebted to a lot of people for making this and every edition possible. We refer not to employees but people who contribute to the newspaper by submitting articles and photos, by buying the paper, and by advertising in it.

The amount of advertising is the key to the publication of the paper. It determines the number of pages in each addition and pays the bulk of the expenses. There are three types of advertising, display, classified and legal. After the advertising is allocated the amount of space it requires, the remaining space is given to the editors to put in stories and photos.

The editors always have far more copy and pictures than the space available. That's why certain stories and photos sometimes do not get published as expected by the contributors.

We are desirous and anxious to have bigger and better papers. We'd like to print more stories and pictures in each section, Sports, Society, Schools, Religion, Government and General.

This can be possible and you, our subscribers and readers, can help us attain that goal. When you shop the merchants who advertise, tell them "I saw your ad in The Courier." Let the merchants know you are aware that their support of the community newspaper gives us the opportunity to publicize your organization, to have reports on our children's activities, to read about schools, and city government, check on church services, etc.

We get legitimate complaints about stories that have been left out of the paper. We realize that you are counting on the publicity to help make a project successful. But sometimes we, too, have a complaint when we learn that the person doing the complaining is not a subscriber to the paper they are asking to assist them and their organization.

We respectfully suggest that subscribers encourage their friends to subscribe. The greater the readership the more compelling the reason for merchants to advertise and to get their message to potential patrons. Business folks understand the value of advertising and the benefits that accrue from the traffic in their stores that advertising generates.

new light bulb were preceded by his endeavors on electrodeless discharge phenomena in space research, weapons and purely theoretical studies.

A native of Berkeley, California, Hollister joined the Marines after high school, became a demolitions specialist and fought in the Korean War. He married Janet Probst and they have lived in Placentia for ten years and have six children.

When he graduated with a BA in physics and astronomy from UCLA in 1960, he was already the father of four.

He worked for Plasmadyne in Santa Ana on plasma propulsion units for rockets and became an expert in the electrodeless discharge phenomenon that forms the technical basis for the Litek bulb.

He was employed by the Aeroneutronics Division of Philco-Ford Corporation, Newport Beach and later formed his own company. "About this time I realized I had a solution looking for a problem", Hollister explained. "I made an attempt to excite interest in a long-lasting light bulb, but did not succeed". Private industry was not interested in the new lamp.

With the energy crisis, Hollister's ideas suddenly had new appeal and in January, 1974, he founded the Lighting Technology Corporation in Fullerton where his work on the bulb has been in progress.

Sierra Vista's Parent Teacher Association will shortly be sponsoring a performance of the fairy tale "Cinderella", advises PTA Assembly Chairman, Mrs. Ruth Gould.

The entertainment will be presented in the school's Multipurpose room on March 26th, by members of the Diamond Bar Children's Theatre.

Two separate assemblies have been planned for the benefit of Sierra Vista students, says Mrs. Gould. Each performance is expected to last approximately one hour, the first to begin at 9 a.m. and the second at 10:20 a.m.

The popular touring group, which consists of twenty children aged eleven

Paine Bicen

The monthly Mabel Paine Bicentennial program for February featured a short skit by Mrs. Sylvia Jolliff's 2nd Grade Class and Mrs. Janet Pettitt's 1st and 2nd Graders.

The skit depicted a school room experience in the life of young Abe Lincoln. Included in the play were patriotic songs and folk dances performed by the children.

In addition to the children's performance, Miss Jenny Horn, 12 year old State Baton Champion, displayed her talents.

Mrs. Catherine Citizen, Director of the Yorba Linda Library, spoke to the assembled classes of Mabel Paine School.

Artist Of Month

Versatile Hope Brown is artist of the month for March at Yorba Linda library. Hope says that she didn't start painting until she was over 50 "and if she can, anybody can".

She has studied with Loyd Omen, Thelma deGoede Smith, Richard Guest and Kwak Lau, and has won a number of awards.

The library art exhibits are a project of the Yorba Linda Woman's Club. Anyone interested in showing may contact Mrs. B. V. Kemp, 528-7659 or Mrs. Roy Knight, 528-7401.

EXPULSIONS

Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District have approved a policy on pupil expulsion, along with administrative procedures which spell out district actions which must be taken in such cases. The policy calls for expulsion "as a final recourse" and "encourages the use of inside personnel and outside agencies in the handling of serious disciplinary problems."

INTERIORS

Many people frequently ask what the trends are in home furnishings today. This is a difficult question to answer, and requires some careful examination.

There are definite trends in home furnishings, just as there are in clothes or cars, or anything that can be successfully sold and merchandised to the general public. Normally the first place you see a trend crop up is in color. Colors that are new to the clothing racks and which sell well, will appear in carpeting and upholstery fabrics as soon as the factories are able to respond.

Right now, we are seeing a trend to the softer colors. All the naturals are very strong right now, as are the muted peaches, blues, grays and soft greens.

HOW TO FLY A KITE SAFELY

By John Payne, Owner - Reg. Pharmacist

Did you get your Vitamin C this morning? Was that grapefruit pink or white? The color, as a matter of fact, can make quite a difference. It seems that the pink grapefruit is more than simply prettier, it's more nourishing!

Although both the pink and white contain the same amount of Vitamin C, it seems the pink supplies you with much more Vitamin A, one that is ordinarily hard to come by and which is essential to human metabolism. So, the next time you're shopping for those juicy grapefruit for your breakfast table, try to remember... Think Pink!

When your doctor prescribes medication to get you back "in the pink of condition", ask him to phone the prescription to us. We'll have it waiting for your pick-up or we'll deliver it, free, if that's more convenient for you.

HANDY HINT: To clean the oven, place a pie tin half full of straight household ammonia in oven, let stand overnight, wiping out with warm water in the morning.

Richmond Research Team Discovers 'Enriched Flavor.'

MERIT taste secret found by isolating key flavor ingredients in cigarette smoke, then adding them to tobacco.

In Richmond, Virginia, there's an eight-story building that houses the main Research Facility for Philip Morris.

Around the company they call it the Tower. It's here that pure research in tobacco yielded what might be the most significant smoking advance since the filter.

It's called 'Enriched Flavor.' It comes in the tobacco of a new kind of low tar cigarette. MERIT.

Only 9 mg. of tar. Yet with astounding flavor.

If you enjoy a full-flavor cigarette now — but would like to find a low tar smoke with a taste you can switch to and stick with — you'll be interested.

Key Flavor Ingredients Of Tobacco Isolated

'Enriched Flavor' was developed by "cracking" cigarette smoke down into its basic ingredients, and isolating special key units that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

'Enriched Flavor' is extra flavor. Natural flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't fade out, can't do anything but come through for you.

We packed MERIT with 'Enriched Flavor' and began a series of taste tests.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1976

Taste-Tested By People Like You

Thousands of filter cigarette smokers tested 9 mg. tar MERIT against five current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much — or more — taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette.

MERIT. Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

BICENTENNIAL SWIM--Esperanza High swimmers, in pool from left: Kyle Bailey, Peter Bourke and John Watson, discuss with Yorba Linda YMCA swim program members Jolie Chaput (with glasses) and Debbie Smith the Y-Aztec Bicentennial Swim to raise funds for the swimming programs at the school and at the Y. The event will be held at 1 p.m. on March 20 with a marathon swim of 200,000 yards in 200 minutes. Pledges and donations are now being secured for the event.

START OF A LONG ONE--El Dorado's Roy Cedarstrom (left) and Troy's Mark Snyder make their starts on the 500 yd. freestyle. Snyder stayed with Cedarstrom for the first 200, but couldn't hold the pace and was passed by Grant Jeffries as well. Cedarstrom's time was 4:54.2. ED varsity won 107-65, but frosh-soph lost 63-85.

Hawk Tennis Season Opens

by Brian Hilderbrand

El Dorado's varsity tennis team, defending Orange League champions, opened league play with a 22-6 routing over the Valencia Tigers on the Hawks' courts.

Leading the Hawks in the victory were Tim Kilker, a senior, and junior Blake Von Sprecken. Both Kilker and Von Sprecken went 4-0 for the day, not giving up a set to their opponents.

Kilker, who allowed only two games in four sets, swept in his match with scores of 6-1, 6-1, 6-0, and 6-0, defeating Steve Barro, Dick Pappas, Blake Vartanian and Steve Shipley.

Von Sprecken claimed all four of his sets by scores of 6-2, 6-3, 6-0, and 6-3.

Steve McAllen, a sophomore, went 3-1 against the Tigers, losing the only set to Steve Barro. McAllen went 1-6 with Barro, but came back to win his other three matches: 6-1, 6-1, and 6-3.

Jon Yee, the remaining singles player for El Dorado, split his four matches. Yee lost to Barro 3-6, and Shipley 3-6, but beat Pappas and Vartanian by scores of 6-1, 6-1.

In doubles competition, both of ED's teams went 3-1 against the Tigers. The team of Brett Bittel and Chris Buck beat the Thielman-Raddatz combo in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1. Bittel and Buck then split two sets with the Oliver-Ozima team, 6-7, and 6-4. The first set, which was won by Valencia, went to a tie-breaker situation to determine the victor.

The team of Paul Howes and Tracy Pierson defeated the Oliver-Ozima duo in straight sets by scores of 6-1, 6-3. Howes-Pierson split with the Thielman-Raddatz alliance, winning one set 6-1, and losing the other, 3-6.

The win boosted the Hawks' season record to 6-2, and 1-0 in league. The two pre-league losses went to Troy and Katella.

El Dorado's biggest match of the season will be this Friday against Esperanza. Both El Dorado and Esperanza will be in contention for the league title this year, and if the Hawks can get past the Aztecs, they will be in good shape for a repeat. The contest will take place on the Aztecs' courts.

Tennis Clinic Opens

The newly formed Orange County Tennis Association has agreed to give Placentia a free clinic for beginning tennis players between the ages of 8 and 12.

This event will take place March 27 at the El Dorado High School Courts. Four tennis professionals will instruct beginners in the basics of tennis. Randy Verdict will be one of the professionals present.

Participants need tennis shoes and racquets for the event. Balls will be furnished.

Reservations are absolutely necessary because of space limitations. For further information and reservations, call Jan Dawson, the publicity chairman for the Placentia Tennis Club, at 993-1956.

Applications for membership in the Placentia Tennis Club are available at our local tennis shops and at the Placentia Parks and Recreation office. Dues for a year's membership are $6 adults, $2 high school, $1 juniors (8-12 years).

Membership in the Placentia Tennis Club is not necessary for this free clinic.

Powell Wins

Mrs. John Powell represented the Yorba Linda Country Club in the Los Angeles Country Club's Mid-Winter golf tournament. She won the third flight, defeating Dolores Jensen of the host club in the finals.

Several of the matches were marred by being played in the rain. Mrs. Powell is the wife of former YLCC pro John Powell.

National Ranking For Aztecs

The Placentia-Yorba Linda Pop Warner Youth Football program was proud to announce this past week that the midget division Aztecs again achieved national ranking for the second straight year.

The Aztecs, despite two losses and a tie in the 1975 season, were ranked 31st in the nation which consists of 3800 teams.

Rankings were awarded on the basis of a combination of achievements both on the football field and in the classroom. The records of all 3800 teams nationally on the field and in school are sent to national headquarters in Philadelphia.

The grades of each boy on all of the teams are spot checked by the ranking committee and points are awarded to each team on the basis of games won, lost and tied and on the school averages of the boys on their rosters. All of the points are totaled and the teams ranked by their total point score.

The Aztecs compiled an excellent record of 8 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie during the 1975 season and earned a very fine 3.6 grade point average in the class room.

Pop Warner football has only been in existence in Placentia-Yorba Linda for three years and the midget division Aztecs have gained national ranking twice.

Pop Warner football in this area is the fastest growing youth athletic program in the area. Starting out just three years ago with only four teams, the program has now doubled in size and may grow even more this year with the addition of one or two more teams in the lower divisions where the registration of boys is very high.

Tigers Hit Too Few Runs

BY JOHN BARRETO

In a frustrating week, the Valencia Tigers lost two exhibition games and dropped the CIF season opener.

Monday, Garden Grove knocked Carl Hill from the mound with a three-run fourth inning. Those three runs were more than enough for Garden Grove, however, because the Tigers scored just one run. The final score was Garden Grove over the Tigers 4-1.

The Tigers again made errors in a bundle...4. They also got four hits. Garden Grove got seven hits and played errorless baseball to account for their four score. Paul Davis was the winning pitcher and Hill the loser.

Tuesday was another lost cause as Santiago edged the Tigers 4-3 despite a three run seventh inning by the Tigers. Eleven Tigers were struck out by Santiago's Joe Blyleven who pitched effectively through seven innings. Doug Braddus was the losing pitcher although he put in a good effort, giving up seven hits in seven innings.

Valencia got three runs on five hits and made an error. Santiago had seven hits, four runs and made five errors.

The Tigers dropped their season opener by being walloped by El Dorado 10 to 5.

El Dorado's Tommy Hasen pitched seven strong innings, giving up just three hits. The game had been going along nicely for the Tigers with Valencia holding a 1-0 lead going into the El Dorado third. Then it was like the Fourth of July as El Dorado rampaged the base paths, scoring eight times and knocking out Mike McCall and doing damage to the losing pitcher Bob Feraphan.

In that eight-run third, pitcher Hazen batted twice, singled and hit a bases-loaded triple to add to the Tiger problems. The Tigers were limited to three hits, scored five runs and committed one error. The Hawks had 10 runs and 10 hits and made a pair of errors.

DIAMOND DUST--The Tigers play host to Sonora this coming Friday, March 19, at 3:15 p.m. and then play Esperanza at home, Tuesday, March 23 at 3:15 p.m. The Tigers could use some fan support from Placentians. If you have the time, the Tigers would warmly welcome any Valencia rooters.

Vietnamese Student Dies

A warning to Vietnamese parents that their youngsters may not have adequate resistance to the strain of influenza now spreading in the area, was issued this week with the death of 17-year-old Chieu Luong, for whom joint Buddhist-Christian services were held Saturdays.

Born in Vietnam, Chieu and his parents and three brothers and a sister have been in this area since the Vietnamese evacuation and are sponsored by the Placentia Calvary Church.

Chieu was a student at Fullerton Union High School, where he was active on the soccer team.

Rev. Philip Lewis of the Calvary Church, who officiated at the funeral service with Buddhist Monk Bodie, said the young student was ill only three days and was rushed to the hospital but did not survive.

He leaves his parents, Hung and Ha Luong and his brothers and sister. Following the funeral, graveside services were at Loma Vista Memorial Park.

Special Guests Sunday

Two talented guests, marriage communications specialist Tim Timmons and vocalist Kim Wickes, will appear at Rose Drive Friends Church Sunday, March 21. Both are receiving wide acclaim for their ability to communicate by spoken word or music.

Timmons will speak and Kim Wickes will sing at both worship services at Rose Drive Friends, 8:15 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. as well as during the 9:30 Sunday School hour for adults.

Then Kim Wickes will present a full sacred concert Sunday evening at 6 p.m. All the presentations will be held in the auditorium of the church, located at the corner of Rose Drive and Bastanchury Rd. in Yorba Linda.

Timmons communicates with superb effectiveness on marriage themes. He currently is conducting "Maximum Marriage" Seminars on a city-wide basis throughout the states. People enjoy his humor and practical insights into making marriage a maximum experience.

Tim has served as a seminary instructor in communication, authored three books, and written the narration for a film on marriage relations. He has spoken extensively in all parts of the country.

Kim Wickes has quite an amazing life story. In fact, Worldwide Pictures, an affiliate of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association plans to make a film on her life.

Born in Korea in 1947, Kim was a victim of the Communist invasion of that war-torn country. When the North Koreans invaded her village on June 25, 1950, a bomb exploded near the little three-year-old girl, permanently blinding her.

At 10, Kim was encouraged to come to the United States. She was placed by the Harry Holt Adoption Agency (Eugene, Oregon) with a dedicated Christian family from Dayton, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. George Wickes and their four children.

She attended Wheaton College and then went on to earn her bachelor's and master's degrees in music from the outstanding school of music at Indiana University.

After doing the course work for her doctor's degree at Indiana, she was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to the Vienna Institute of Music and Dramatic Arts in Austria.

After her Fulbright work, Kim was asked to sing at a series of prestigious events, starting with the International Congress on World Evangelization in Lausanne, Switzerland.

In the fall of 1974, she was a special soloist at Billy Graham's 25th Anniversary Celebration at the Hollywood Bowl. This appearance had special meaning to Kim, for it was at a Billy Graham Crusade in Indianapolis in 1959 that she accepted Christ as her Savior.

Church Opens Youth Service

St. Joseph's in Placentia has become a forerunner in Southern California among Catholic churches. For the past nine months, St. Joseph's has been involved in Youth Ministry.

Frank and Suzanne Walker have been hired by the church to work as full-time youth ministers. Frank stated, "this is not so unusual as far as other Christian churches are concerned, but for our church, which has relied so heavily on priests and nuns in the past, it's a fantastic step for lay involvement."

The Ministry to youth takes into account these three facets: message, service and community. This is generally what the youth ministry team does, the volunteer staff of college people work with religious education, Bible studies, rap sessions, personal contact with the youth of local school campuses, social events and one to one counseling with the young person and his parents.

The job is a big one considering that the staff works with kids from 13 years on up to college age adults and especially when you consider the 2,500 plus families of St. Joseph's parish.

The primary focus of the Ministry is the developing, among the youth, of a personal relationship with Jesus. "To make anything we do work at St. Joseph's, Christ must be the center and our focal point. How can we fail with that as a goal," Frank has stated.

Ministry to Youth is one of the big priorities of both Father George Breslin and Kathy Acton the Religious Education Coordinator who first initiated and hired Frank and Suzanne for the job. Many eyes are focussed on Placentia to see the progress of this new plan with the hope of implementing it elsewhere.

The Ministry Team has had great successes in the past months and much more will happen in the future. Suzanne explained, "after nine months, we've only just begun!"

Singers At YL Friends

"Daniel Amos", one of the more popular Maranatha Musical groups to ever come out of Calvary Chapel, will be performing a concert Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Yorba Linda Friends Church.

Country and Western Folk-rock is the type of music the quartet play, a sound that is done tastefully and appealing to most all. The band has just recently recorded an album which will be released in early April, which include on it such songs as "Freedom," "Living Water," and a very popular selection entitled "Wave Goodbye To You!"

On the past few occasions that "Daniel Amos" has appeared at Calvary, they have had to come back and play encore songs, after standing ovations by the appreciative audience.

TLC Program Available For Seniors

The Placentia Project T.L.C. (Transportation, Lunch and Counseling) meets Monday through Friday at the Backs Community Building from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The program provides a nutritionally balanced lunch to low income seniors followed by a social services program, entertainment, arts and crafts or games. Project T.L.C. Coordinator, Darcie Gore, said that a favorite activity of the seniors is the Friday bingo games and donations are needed to be used as bingo prizes. Knickknacks, canned goods, useful household items, all make good bingo prizes. Anyone interested in making a donation

Camp Fire Birthday

"We, the People," Camp Fire's 66th Birthday celebration, will be held at La Habra Fashion Square on March 20, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The day-long activities centered around the nation's heritage will feature booths, displays, and entertainment.

Highlight of the day will be Camp Fire's heritage presentation of a carved wooden monument depicting the part of the stage coach in our early history.

Presentation of the monument will be made at 1:25 p.m. to the City of Brea, where it will be placed along one of the early stage coach routes.

Over 300 girls and leaders from Anaheim,

Brea, Buena Park, Fullerton, La Habra, Placentia, and Yorba Linda have contributed to the project.

The monument is being built by Tom Yeager, husband of a La Habra leader, and co-ordinated and researched by the Tom Lockley family of Brea who submitted the idea for the stage coach stop to the Camp Fire Heritage Committee.

Chairman of the Heritage Committee is Kathy Lane, a Yorba Linda leader. Mrs. Lane did extensive research into many heritage sites in North Orange County prior to the selection of the stage coach site.

"Dolly Madison's Fashion Review," a Bicentennial costume contest, will start at 12:15 p.m. with a parade through the mall, ending at La Casita where the judging will be held.

First, second, and third place prizes will be awarded in four different age categories: Blue Birds, 1st through 3rd grade girls; Adventurers, 4th through 6th grade girls; Discovery and Horizon Club, junior and senior high girls and adults.

In connection with the birthday celebration, Camp Fire girls also participated in "Ben Franklin's Printing Press Contest," a poster contest using the form of a 1776 newspaper to commemorate the 66th birthday.

Two $25 first place prizes were donated by La Habra

Fashion Square and will be presented to the winners at 1 p.m. One first place will be awarded to Debbi Morrow, a Horizon Club member from Brea.

The other first place award will go to a Placentia Discovery Club whose members are Lisa Burke, Stella Hall, Debbi Haussmann, Melissa Hepp, Linda Kastenholz, Theresa Mirko, and Lisa Williams. An Honorable Mention prize of $5 will also be presented to Ann Sutton, an Adventurer from Brea.

Booth activities and displays are open from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and again from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Booths are divided into four different areas.

The booths of "Industry" include "Thomas Paine's Prints," "George Washington's Wood Carvings," "Daniel Boone's Critters," and "Chief Joseph's Sand Paintings."

The "Land" booths are "Johnny Appleseed's Seedlings," "John Muir's Tree Test," "Squanto's Seed Jewelry," and "Paul Revere's Rally Flags."

The "People" booths include "Betsy Ross's Flag Shop," "Nez Perce Symbol Wheel," "Martha Washington's Quilting Bee," and

"Charlotte Gulick's Paper Dolls."

In the "Art" booths, girls may participate in "Virginia Reel's Dance Studio," "Dolly Madison's Fashion Review," "Mary Lincoln's Knitting Circle," or the "Ben Franklin Printing Press Contest."

A set of six emblems will be available to each girl if she participates in all phases of the day-long project. At the start of the day, she will receive her "Bill of Rights" which will tell her what she must do to complete the project.

Chairman for the event is Kathy Morrow of Brea. Her committee includes Lynn Sailors of La Habra as Booth Chairman; Becky Mirko of Placentia as Publicity Chairman; Mamie Yeager of La Habra as Entertainment Chairman.

Other committee members include Kathy Lane, Yorba Linda, Heritage Site Chairman; Andrea Lockley, Brea, secretary; Alice Neilson, Placentia, registration chairman; Jan Little, Fullerton, Set-up chairman; Kathy Crum, Fullerton, and Giselle Smith, Yorba Linda, co-chairman of the "Dolly Madison Fashion Review," and Cindy Earnshaw, La Habra, clean-up chairman.

Sierra Vista Students Take A Field Trip Right Next Door

Kindergartners Visit Store

Sporting individualized Pantry name plates, kindergartners from Sierra Vista School visited the Pantry Market recently.

Taking a sabbatical, store manager Ken Little acted as tour guide and conducted the youngsters through each department, where pertinent staff activities were explained.

January has been designated "nutrition month" in the kindergarten. The four basic food groups have been explored and perishable items have been researched from agricultural through related retail stages.

"Supermarkets" have been created in the classrooms, stocked with salvaged grocery containers. Students have learned the principles of "size pricing" and have alternated as cashiers. "Clerks" have been responsible for ensuring that items are appropriately priced and stored.

A SUPER GIANT SIZED garbage disposal looks like that? Not missing a second of the action are Heather Hoehle, Tina Zummo and Mary Gerace.

Counseling Reorganized

A plan to provide additional psychological and counseling services at the 14 elementary schools in the Placentia Unified School District has been approved by trustees for the next school year.

The move includes re-naming the district's seven psychologists as psychologist/counselors to include counseling duties. They will work exclusively with elementary schools.

At the high school level, a counselor with a psychologist's credential will assume the psychologist/counselor title and serve the senior and junior high schools in each attendance area, explained Superintendent John Tynes.

"The new arrangement will provide almost twice as much counseling time for elementary students, and on-site psychologists at the secondary levels," Tynes said.

Currently psychologists work at all three levels, spending less than two days a week, on an average, at each elementary school and less at secondary schools. Special psychological services will be continued for special education classes, as required by state guidelines.

The one elementary counseling position currently in the district at Wagner Elementary School will be included in the plan, bringing the total number of elementary psychologist/counselors to eight. The only addition to the staff will be a parttime intern psychologist.

Mike Valentine, currently counselor at El Camino

Real High, will move into the newly created psychologist/counselor post at Valencia High. Holding the positions at the other high schools will be Barbara Lackey at Esperanza and Richard Seybold at El Dorado. Donna Torgerson will move from Valencia to fill the post at El Camino.

In a counseling transfer which is effective immediately, Daniel Harrington, now at Valencia, moves to El Dorado, and Marvin Briggs, currently a counselor at El Dorado, goes to Valencia.

In addition to working with students, psychologist/counselors will provide parent conferencing, test students for special programs and work with staff on counseling problems.

FASCINATED with the machinery of an operating super market are the young window shoppers from Sierra Vista. Here they observe packages of meat on a conveyor belt. Interested spectators are Johnny Dalton and Steven Kidder.

Personnel Changes In PUSD

Charles Johannsen has assumed the new title of director of exceptional pupil services including special education and the gifted program for the Placentia Unified School District.

Eugene Dorn, formerly principal at Valencia High School, has been working parttime as a member of the district negotiating team in collective bargaining with the teaching staff. His new job as director of pupil services and staff relations, designates him as chief negotiator with certificated employees.

He will be in charge of managerial proposals and counterproposals during teacher negotiations and interpret final employee contracts for managerial staff, as well as develop and implement policies for certificated staff relations.

As director of pupil services, Dorn will serve as district coordinator of counseling and guidance services and health services. He also will be in charge of the child welfare and attendance program required by the state.

Bob Jones the new acting principal at Valencia, has been a teacher and administrator in Placentia schools since 1964. At Valencia High School he taught history for a year before becoming director of student activities and finance in 1965. He held an administrative assistant internship in 1970-1971 and assumed the assistant principalship at El Dorado in 1971.

Jones holds his B.A. degree in history/English from California State College, Fullerton and his M.A. degree in history from Chapman College.

He and his wife Joyce live in Placentia with their children, Cynthia and David.

AWARDED

Emilie Disen, journalism teacher at Valencia High School, has been named Outstanding High School Journalism Educator in the state by California Newspaper Publishers Association. She has taught journalism/English at Valencia for 25 years and founded El Tigre.

Toastmasters Entertain

Speakers from six Orange County Toastmasters Clubs will compete in a "Serious Speech and Tall Tales" contest to be held at the Alta Vista Country Club in Placentia on March 20, 1978.

The dinner meeting will begin at 7 p.m. and the public is invited to attend. Tickets are $7.25 per person and may be purchased at the door.

Roy Fenstermaker - Assistant Area Governor for Education, and Terry Martinet - Secretary/Treasurer. Membership in Toastmasters is open to anyone 18 years of age or older. Those interested in joining should call 542-6293 for Club meeting information.

Brian Riehm Appointed

Brian E. Riehm, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Riehm, Placentia, has been appointed to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland.

The appointment follows a double nomination to Annapolis from Senator John V. Tunney and to the U.S. Air Force Academy by Senator Alan Cranston.

The appointee is a student at El Dorado High School and is also taking calculus courses at California State University at Fullerton. He will enter Annapolis in July.

Brian's interests lie in mathematics and athletics. He scored in the top one per cent in the math and verbal portions of the college Scholastic Aptitude Test, and achieved perfect scores in math and chemistry on his college entrance board tests.

He has earned two varsity letters in football at El Dorado and is coaching a so-far-undefeated youth basketball team in Placentia Parks and Recreation competition.

Brian was one of two chosen as Outstanding High School Engineering Student of Orange County by the Orange County Engineering Council.

Outstanding freethrow shooter at Valencia was Stan Davis, a member of the Wulfmeyer: Prep Star To?

BY SCOTT EMBLIDGE

Two years ago at about this time one of the biggest stories in high school basketball in the country was a guard-forward playing at Troy High School in Fullerton.

His name was Mark Wulfmeyer and he had just broken the state's High School scoring record and was selected as a consensus prep All-American.

Wulf, as he began to be called, then had to make a big decision between professional baseball and continuing with his basketball career.

In a recent interview with Wulfmeyer on the Troy High School campus he reflected on his decision and what followed.

Wulf surprised everyone in 1974 when he chose baseball over basketball and signed with the California Angels for a sizeable bonus.

After a disappointing first season with the club, which included frequent injuries to his pitching arm, Wulfmeyer turned the tables again.

In 1975 he returned to basketball by attending the University of Southern California. He was allowed to play college basketball because of a new NCAA ruling that enables an athlete to be a professional in one sport while retaining his amateur status in another.

Wulf had limited playing time on the USC squad in this, his freshman year, but possibly that was good. USC had the worst record in Pacific 8 basketball history, 0-14.

Why did Wulf choose USC?

"I wanted to stay close to home, and at the time I signed, SC had good baseball and basketball programs. The season was a disappointment, though. I mean we played great in preseason but the Pac 8 was a turnaround. When we were playing good no one could beat us."

Why then did USC go 0-14?

"I don't know, if we did we wouldn't be losing. There were some ill-feelings on the team towards some certain people about how much they played. We certainly didn't have a lack of talent."

What about your individual season?

"My best game was against Stanford where I had 19 points and nine assists in 28 minutes, but the next game I only played six minutes. Naturally I felt I should've started. I've matured as a player since high school and now I can hold my own on defense."

Are you going to stay with baseball?

"I'm going to spring training in the minor leagues and playing Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays. I'll also be playing during Easter vacation. I don't like the minor leagues, its rough and lonely. They don't care about you, they depend on your performance. Its too much like a business."

As an athlete, how do you keep up with your school-work?

"I'm taking general courses but the year off made it hard to get back into school work. Sure, athletes get breaks and probably don't need to do as much work as the other guys, but the breaks are justified."

"We return something in the money that sports bring in to support the school. Private colleges can't survive without their sports programs and besides an athlete doesn't have time to do all the work."

What about womens sports?

"The main difference between mens and womens sports is that the women don't bring anything in. They should have the same equipment, but the money shouldn't be split half and half. Lets face it, women aren't equal in the sports category and can't compete against men."

What about the future?

"I'm going to wait till after my sophomore year to make decisions. Obviously competing in both sports leaves you a little thin. If I don't go professional I won't stay in athletics, I'm not sure yet what I'll do. But I'm looking forward to next year."

I'm sure USC and the Angels are looking forward to having you around also, Wulf.

Kosiba In Final 50

Eric Kosiba, a member of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Aztecs, of Pop Warner football is very much in the running for All-American honors. According to the section committee in Philadelphia, Pop Warner National Headquarters, Eric has survived elimination to the last fifty boys from a total of over 2,000 boys who were nominated.

Thirty-three boys will be selected to the team on the basis of their accomplishments on the football field and in the classroom. Also taken into serious consideration are the answers to 10 questions which each boy must submit to the selection committee.

If Eric makes the team he will be eligible to earn a $1,000 scholarship to the school of his choice. This is awarded on the basis of a blind draw from the 33 man squad.

Kosiba was an offensive center and defensive tackle on the 1975 Placentia-Yorba Linda Aztecs, a midjet division team. He is the son of Rich and Barbara Kosiba. Mr. Kosiba was an assistant coach on the Placentia-Yorba Linda Jr. Midget Lions during the 1975 season.

During his stint on the Aztecs Eric was the leading tackler for the team and also one of the best offensive linemen on the squad. He also compiled a 3.98 grade point average in the classroom.

The final selection of 33 boys was to be made on March 15, by the committee in Philadelphia and officials of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Pop Warner organization should be notified very shortly after that as to Eric's status.

Fleming Continues Sport

Mike Fleming, star UCLA wrestler and graduate of El Dorado High School failed to qualify for the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament last weekend in Tucson, Arizona.

Fleming, a 126 pounder, failed to make the weight at the national finals. However, he previously had won his division in the PAC-8

Tournament February 20 and 21 at Oregon State University at Corvallis.

A junior at UCLA, Fleming is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fleming, Placentia. He won CIF two years and the state tournament once at El Dorado High School, from which he graduated in 1973.

Attending Fullerton College for two years, he won the state championship one year. He is now at UCLA on an athletic scholarship and is majoring in economics.
